Miss Taylor and a group of 13 friends had a private dinner in Rome's oldest restaurant — the 14th Century Hostaria Dell'Orso The Hostelry of the Bear.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Top bargaining teams for the steel industry and the United Steelworkers USW meet today with the hope of an agreement in the next few days.

A self-imposed deadline for a new contract for the 430,000 basic steelworkers expires Thursday. The present contract runs out midnight June 30.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The four major broadcasting networks will cover live Thursday the triumphal parade of Lt. Col. John Glenn and his fellow astronauts up Broadway.

Radio and television coverage of the parade and other activities will begin at 9 a.m. PST and continue for about two hours.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht held talks here this week on Berlin, Germany and other international problems, the official news agency Tass said today.

Tass said the two leaders discussed the questions of "normalization of the situation in West Berlin" and a separate peace treaty between the Soviet Union and East Germany.

LONDON (UPI)—Anthony Armstrong-Jones took his seat in the House of Lords today and won a smiling tribute from Princess Margaret for his solo debut in the pomp and circumstance of British nobility.

Jones, created Lord Snowdon by his wife's sister, Queen Elizabeth, moved confidently through the short but stately ceremony in the packed House of Lords while Margaret offered moral encouragement.

Talk Fee Revision at PS Airport

The Palm Springs Airport Commission today discussed possible downward revisions in landing and parking fees which would put the airport charges closer to the Southern California pattern.

The potential changes, described by a commission spokesman as "minor," would provide a "logical background for the entire rate structure," and be "representative of airports in the southern area."

FAA Man here
The commission, which has not taken action on the rates, has not included fueling charges in its study discussions.

Kenneth Wild, Federal Aviation Authority field representative, attended portions of the meeting and will work with Delmar Canady, airport director, on completion of the city's request for FAA reimbursement for land and facilities purchases.

The FAA has tentatively approved $720,200 for the grant-in-aid reimbursements for the current year, conditioned on city acquisition of additional lands on the airport.

Expect Lessee
The lands, now subject to condemnation proceedings, include the site of the airport administrative offices and taxi runways. The three 40-acre parcels are under lease to the city.

George Moore, representative of Butler Aviation Co., is expected to arrive in Palm Springs today to discuss revised proposals for a contract as fixed based operator for fueling services and maintenance here.

The agreement, tentatively agreed on in previous sessions with the airport commission, would include Butler's installation of approximately $100,000 worth of equipment here.

An administrative officer of the firm is expected to arrive here Thursday for possible contract signature.

JFK DESIGNATES "WEEKS"

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has designated April 8-14 Pan American Week, with April 14 as Pan American Day, and set aside the seven days beginning July 22 as National Farm Safety Week.

Battle on Withholding Tax Looms

Interest and Dividends Hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A partisan fight shaped up in the House today over President Kennedy's proposal to withhold taxes on stock dividends and interest.

Income taxes on wages and salaries have been withheld through payroll deductions for two decades. Legislation to apply a similar system to dividends and interest was wrapped into a wide-ranging tax bill on which the House Ways and Means Committee reached final agreement Tuesday.

The measure — a compromise version of Kennedy's tax program — represented the most extensive income tax revision since the entire code was overhauled by a Republican Congress in 1954.

GOP leaders said they would attempt then with a single-shot amendment to knock out the withholding tax, drastically revamp big tax concessions provided for business, and soften tougher tax treatment applied to foreign income of American business.

Republicans said their revisions would result in considerably less revenue loss than the committee bill and therefore would not threaten Kennedy's precarious $436 million budget surplus for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The committee bill would directly affect tens of millions of individual taxpayers, starting next Jan. 1, by withholding for taxes 20 cents on every dollar in stock dividends and on interest earned on savings accounts in banks and savings and loan associations. The Treasury said this would capture $600 million of the $850 million in revenue which it loses every year because of taxpayers' failure to report such income.

Glenn Trip Gave Proof That Man Best Computer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Astronaut John Glenn told lawmakers today one of the most important findings from his three-orbit flight was that man, not machine, is the world's best computer.

As a result of this lesson, he said, future space capsules will be "greatly simplified" to put more responsibility on the pilot.

Similarly, his fellow astronaut, Alan Shepard, told a Senate committee that removal of the automation gear from the space capsule — as is already planned — would provide the weight capacity for a second passenger.

At the moment, however, there is not sufficient space to "join a word," Shepard said.

Glenn told members of the House Space Committee that "man is the best computer in there."

COLD WEATHER in San Francisco found Sydney, the male koala at the zoo ready with his stocking cap and muffler. The cold wave has brought the most frigid late February in the city's history and Melba doesn't seem too happy that Sydney isn't more of a gentleman with his frost-proof paraphernalia. Cold Wave Chills Canada to Texas

By United Press International

Floods lapped at highways and homes in seven states today, leaving nearly 4,000 persons homeless. A record cold wave chilled the plains from the Canadian border to Texas.

Heat records were established in the Deep South. Light snow, sleet and freezing rain brought hazardous driving warnings to 10 states, from Oklahoma to New York.

Heavy rains fell from the Ohio Valley to the cotton belt, Lexington, Ky., had 1.25 inches of rain early today, Paducah, Ky., measured 1.69 inches, Little Rock, Ark., had 2.95 inches of rain, Charleston, W. Va., reported 2.01 inches and Louisville, Ky., 2.14 inches. Cincinnati had 1.53 inches.

The rains fed flood waters in West Virginia, Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana, Tennessee and Arkansas. An ice jam on the Big Horn River caused flooding in Wyoming, and New Jersey reported a flood threat.

Flood waters were receding in West Virginia, but the Red Cross reported some 2,000 persons still homeless.

Some 1,000 persons were homeless in eastern Kentucky. Rivers were receding at Paintsville, Salsersville and Hazard today, but other streams were rising, threatening 15 Kentucky cities.

Doctors and nurses were rushing typhoid vaccine to Inez, Martin and Garrett, Ky., where wells were flooded. National Guardsmen were sent to Corbin, Jackson and Paintsville, Ky. At Cadiz, Ky., the Little River flooded a pumping station and drinking water was rationed.

A hundred families were forced from their homes in Tennessee following 5 inches of rain in two days.

Fine Outlook On Weather

Clear skies with only occasional cloudiness was the weatherman's promise for tomorrow and it may be a bit warmer following nippy mornings. Heavy snow on the Santa Rosas and the shoulders of San Jacinto refrigerated the morning air on the desert today.

But the rains may still come by tomorrow night or Friday morning as a storm dumped moisture on central and northern California today.

Twelve Injured In Crash of Crack Limited

LEWISTOWN, Pa. (UPI)—The Pennsylvania Limited, with 100 passengers aboard, crashed early today into a tank car of a derailed freight train. At least 12 persons, including seven passengers, were injured.

Seventeen of the 18 cars of the passenger train and a three-unit diesel engine derailed, ripping up 4,000 feet of track when the passenger train struck the tank car. The wreck occurred about 23 miles east of Lewistown.

Only the last car of the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train, en route from New York to Chicago by way of Pittsburgh, remained on the tracks.

A spokesman said the pile-up occurred shortly before 3 a.m. while the limited was passing the 94-car eastbound freight train after 12 of the freight cars left a set of parallel tracks about 30 minutes earlier.

Hospital Wing Start Scheduled on Saturday

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Palm Springs Golf Classic Wing to the Desert Hospital will be held Saturday at 11 a.m. on the hospital grounds.

Officiating will be Palm Springs Honorary Mayor Bob Hope; Frank Sinatra; Leonard Firestone, president of the Classic; members of the hospital board, William Perlberg and Milton Prell, co-chairmen of the successful building fund drive; and Mrs. Gail Burns, president of the women's auxiliary to the hospital.

The public is invited to the event, which will be covered by newsreels and press. Funds totaling $33,000 for the 22-bed addition, equipment and furnishings were raised by pledges and the brilliant $100-a-plate Golf Classic dinner staged Feb. 2 at which Hope and Sinatra performed.

Construction by the L. P. Scherer Co. of Redlands, low bidders on the project, will start immediately, and completion is expected to take from eight to 10 months.

Long Conflict May Be Over By March 15

PARIS (UPI)—The Algerian rebel government-in-exile in Tunis announced today it has been authorized to complete peace talks with the French. A cease-fire in the 7½-year-old Algerian conflict appeared likely by March 15.

It followed a six-day meeting in the Libyan capital of Tripoli of the Algerian rebel parliament or National Council of the Algerian Revolution.

Contrary to expectation, a bald communique issued this afternoon in Tunis did not state whether the rebel parliament had ratified the draft cease-fire agreement already concluded with the French.

It merely stated that the government-in-exile had been authorized to continue the talks.

The refugee government will meet Thursday in Tunis to choose a tentative date for further talks, probably early next week. Algerian officials expected the talks to last at least a week.

President Charles de Gaulle called a meeting of his cabinet to discuss arrangements for winding up the long, bitter conflict.

The meeting is at 9:30 a.m. EST.

Algerian Affairs Minister Louis Joxe was expected to report to the cabinet on a major unsolved problem — the bombings and shootings in Algeria and France which are killing dozens of people daily.

The underground Secret army Organization (OAS) is a major source of trouble. OAS gunmen have been shooting Arabs on sight, particularly in Algiers and Oran, despite army efforts to restore order.

The OAS, led by embittered army officers and supported by most of Algeria's million Frenchmen, charges De Gaulle has "sold out" Algeria to 9 million Arabs after 130 years of French rule.

Tribe to Play Bell Garden Here Friday

Just before press time, word was received from Wayland Reynolds, assistant principal at the Palm Springs High School, that the upcoming second-round CIF playoff cage tilt pitting the Indians against the Bell Garden Lancers will be played at the local high school gym.

The Bell Garden cage quintet finished on top of the ladder in the Rio Hondo league, which includes schools east of Los Angeles.

Bell Garden knocked off Westminster, 65-44, last night to advance to the second round. The all-important cage game at the local gym will start at 8 p.m.

Kuchel Will Run Again For Senate

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., today announced his candidacy for another six-year term.

Kuchel, GOP win in the Senate and a 10-year veteran, said he has tried to serve the needs of California and the nation for the past decade and "I am ready to be judged by my fellow Californians."

Kuchel faces a challenge in the June 5 primary against Loyd Wright, Los Angeles attorney, and Howard Jarvis, Los Angeles businessman, in his bid to win the GOP nomination.

Old Foe
If he is successful in the primary, he is expected to face Democrat Richard Richards, state senator from Los Angeles County, in the Nov. 6 runoff election.

Kuchel, 51, beat Richards in 1956 by a margin of 450,000 votes. Kuchel said that for 25 years in government he has tried to make the Republican party "responsive to the needs of the people."

An attorney, Kuchel was born in Anaheim and elected to the Assembly in 1936 and 1938. He became a state senator in 1940 and was re-elected in 1944 even though he then was serving in the Navy.

Warren Appointee
He was appointed controller by former Gov. Earl Warren in 1940 and was elected to that office in 1946 and 1950. Warren appointed him to the Senate in 1952 and he was elected to a two-year term in 1954 when he defeated Democrat Sam Yorty, now mayor of Los Angeles.

In 1956, Kuchel won a full six-year term in the Senate by defeating Richards.

In his announcement, Kuchel said there is no easy solution to the problems of the world or nation.

GROCERIES UP, CLOTHES DOWN

Living Costs Remain the Same

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Living costs continued unchanged in January as lower prices for clothing offset higher grocery costs, the Labor Department announced today.

It also said the consumer price index rose in the 12 months ending in mid-January seven-tenths of 1 per cent, the smallest such increase in six years.

Poultry, fresh vegetables and meats all showed price increases in January. Women's and girls' clothes, some fresh fruits, used cars and household textiles were cheaper.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said no sizeable increase in living costs was in sight during the next few months, but that a strengthening of meat prices might bring a creep in spring.

The failure of the index to rise last month and earlier declines will mean penny-an-hour pay cuts for about 100,000 workers in aircraft and missile firms.

Suspended Terms for Seven Men

Seven men charged with unauthorized occupancy of property on Cactus Road near Amado Road were given 10 days suspended sentences, plus probation and fines in Desert Municipal Court in Palm Springs Tuesday.

The men were apprehended after police received a report of one man lying at the edge of the street early Tuesday. Others were found near trees on the property, an officer reported.

The sentences, including a $26.25 fine to be paid by Saturday, were given to John Eugene Kopp, 40, 17-322 Sanborn St., North Palm Springs; Jesse Leroy Chism, 42, Sacramento; Troy Winchester, 43, Alderwood, Washington; Joseph George Schubert, 65, no address; Darrell Dean Gorton, 33, 232 E. Man Injured by Car Striking Retaining Wall

INDIO — George Wesley Martin, 29, of 43-750 Buena Circle, Palm Desert, received minor injuries at 5:45 p.m. Tuesday when his car struck a retaining wall on Highway 111 near Miles Avenue, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Martin, who had been leaning against the left door of the car, turned the steering wheel right and apparently over-controlled the car in a service station parking lot, investigators said.

He was taken to Casitas Hospital for treatment.

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk will visit New Zealand May 9 and 10, Prime Minister Keith Holyoake has announced.

He said Rusk would visit here after attending the Anzous Council meeting in Canberra, Australia, May 7 and 8.

Landslide Victory in India by Nehru Party

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — In a crucial test of his political future, the controversial defense minister apparently was headed for an overwhelming victory. Political observers said if Krishna Menon kept up his current pace, it would be a "phenomenal landslide."

Nehru was reported to have a comfortable lead in the parliamentary race in Allahabad. At midnight, he was ahead by more than 43,000 votes.

In state elections, the Congress party had recaptured control of seven legislatures and seemed well on its way to winning more of the 12 being contested.

With 202 results announced for the 494 elective seats in the Lok Sabha (lower House of Parliament), the Congress party had won 149 and the Communists 15.

Fee Slate Adopted in Hot Springs

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The Desert Hot Springs County Water District Tuesday adopted a fee schedule for annexation of lands designed to encourage fee payments.

The board, headed by Stone Wright, Jr., passed resolutions calling for notices to all property within a half mile of a new main line that annexation fees would increase 10 per cent from the normal $100 per acre if not paid within a computed time after the installation. Maximum increase in the fee would be 50 per cent, to $150 per acre.

The district emphasizes annexation of lands suitable for development, and does not normally exercise lien rights against property with outstanding fees due.

Break In Was Only a Gift

Nocturnal neighborliness brought Palm Springs police in quick response to an alarm from a lady on Calle Amigos at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The woman called police to report that someone was attempting to break into the back door of her home.

From the scene, an officer reported that the noise came from the rear door screen. A neighbor had left a gift of food inside the screen door.

Montee had been visiting with his mother, Mrs. Margaret Montee, who had been ill in the Copass home for the past 18 weeks.

Powers Probe Report Expected Within Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A special board of inquiry has finished questioning U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers and a report on the investigation may be released before the week is over.

Central Intelligence Agency Director John A. McCone said Tuesday the board, headed by retired Federal Appeals Court Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, had completed its interrogation of Powers about his crash in Russia May 1, 1960, and subsequent imprisonment until he was exchanged Feb. 10 for Russian spy Rudolf Abel.

McCone goes before a special Senate watchdog subcommittee on the CIA Thursday. He said he hoped to be able to discuss the board's report with the committee.

Rep. Cornelius E. Gallagher, D-N.J., said there was a "strong feeling" in the House Foreign Affairs Committee that Powers should be called for testimony if the CIA did not advise against it. Congressional sources said they were told that a summary of the board's findings would be made public Friday, probably after being censored for security purposes.

A high administration source said that Powers might be ready to hold a news conference by the end of the week.

Attends Committee Session
McCone made his comments to newsmen after a three-hour closed session with the House Foreign Affairs Committee. One committee source said McCone was unwilling to discuss the Powers matter, prompting Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, to say:

"I have regarded you favorably before, but on the basis of your appearance here today, all I can say is that you are like Allen Dulles (McCone's predecessor) in one respect and unlike him in another: He didn't tell us anything either, but he did it more entertainingly."

Disgruntled Nester Is Found in Desert

Sorry to report a disgruntled new home-maker in our midst. After the young couple had "looked at everything in the desert," the bride said, "this is the spot for us." They built their home on a beautiful site. A bougainvillea was in full foliage and aflame with color, giving them the desired privacy. They were dreaming of the day when their little ones would have all that colorful environment in which to grow. It was after they started their family and were looking forward to parenthood, that, over night the temperature dipped and old Jack Frost slipped in and did his dirty work. The once beautiful bougainvillea was changed to an ugly brown.

The young mother says "What a rotten trick! The lovely environment we had hoped for, in which we could raise our family was gone."

"My name? I'm Mrs. Road Runner, with my nest full of eggs in the once beautiful bougainvillea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyed Dovey on Arbol Real.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vogus and family of Oxnard, visited his mother, Mrs. Cloe Vogus, on Calle Jessica, and then took her home with them. Before returning to the desert, Mrs. Vogus also visited a daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Brandon of Sherman Oaks.

It rained every day she was away from home, and so she was happy to see the sun again.

Mrs. Edna Smith on Calle Jessica is home after an absence of two months, a part of which time was spent in a San Francisco Hospital, undergoing tests and x-rays. She has returned to us much improved in health, we are glad to report.

The second attempt to make it to Lancaster proved successful last week-end for Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Kidwell on Los Flores Way. The week before, the rains had made part of the road impassable. A young grandson, five year old Jeff had broken an arm in three places and was anxious to show off his new cast to his grandparents. Jeff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kidwell of Lancaster.

Mrs. C. McEwen on Monte Vista is spending a few days in Carlsbad visiting a brother.

Mrs. Elva Woodside's home has been a scene of much visiting. Her brother, Floyd Groom, of Phoenix, arrived for a week's stay last Tuesday. Mrs. H. E. Groom and Mr. George Walker of Westchester came on Wednesday for a week's visit.

On Thursday, three members of the Shrine Club under El Bekal Temple at Long Beach, used Mrs. Woodside's home for a stop-off place before and after participating in the Washington Day parade in India. They were Al Raddant, W. O. Klaus and W. R. Gentry, all of Los Angeles.

They took in the Fair, the parade and several tours around the country-side, including a trip to Joshua Tree Monument on Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Geckle of Los Flores Way had her son, Matthew, from Los Angeles with her over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McCamley of Inglewood were at their 1000 Palms home on Arbol Real, for the week-end.

We all welcome the return of Mrs. Dan Claassen, wife of the pastor of the Community Church here. She has been convalescing after major surgery last November, at the home of her mother, Mrs. O. L. Kaminska of Beatrice, Neb.

Handicapped Center Gets New Facility

CATHEDRAL CITY — In keeping with its precept of providing facilities for cultural and humanitarian betterment, the Ashrama Swaraj Foundation has announced the inauguration of a treatment center for handicapped children. The Center is to be located on the Foundation premises at 86-917 Highway 111, here and will be under the direction of Dr. John De Aragon of Malibu.

In an effort toward better parental orientation with the program, Dr. De Aragon will present a lecture, entitled, "Comprehensive Therapy For The Handicapped Child," to be held on Monday, March 5th at 8:00 p.m. in the Tea Room of the Ashrama Swaraj building, the announcement concluded.

Dr. De Aragon has served as clinician in the pediatric department of the famed Spears Hospital of Denver, Colorado. While on a field research mission for the hospital, he later taught the methods discovered and developed at the institution to interested doctors in Latin America.

"While the basic concept of cerebral palsy is that of brain damage, the Spears researchers were the first to offer a practical method for relieving cerebral pressures through the technique of cranial remodeling. It is this method, as well as other recent advances in the treatment and care of cerebral palsy and other related disorders, that will be employed at the Center," Dr. De Aragon stated.

Umbrellas, Mirrors May Change Weather

By DAVID BURHAM

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A congressman suggested today that it might be possible to control the weather with giant umbrellas and mirrors in space.

Rep. James G. Fulton, R-Pa., a senior member of the House Space Committee, advanced the idea in an interview.

Fulton said that if his plan worked out, it might someday be possible to turn the vast wastelands of northern Canada and Siberia into productive and habitable areas.

The steaming overgrown jungles of Africa and South America might be transformed into temperate zones where men could work under the noon day sun, he said.

Under Fulton's concept, a dense cloud of tinfoil would be launched high into space where it would act as a mirror and reflect the light of the sun on the northern areas of earth.

If properly placed, Fulton figures, the mirror would extend the hours of sunlight in each day. Theoretically the mirror would be so launched as to remain above one spot on earth but Fulton was uncertain on this point.

"The sun is one of the prime factors in the weather," the Pennsylvania lawmaker said. "If we can control the sun we can control temperature and thus the movement of the winds."

For tropical areas near the Equator, Fulton suggested launching some opaque material to form an umbrella to shade the land below, he said many of the world's basic weather patterns are continually nourished by the mass of hot air rising from near the Equator.

Food Prices in Spring Upturn

By GAYLORD P. GODIN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department said today food stocks through early spring generally will be larger than a year earlier.

Retail prices are expected to average slightly higher in the first quarter of 1962, approaching year-earlier levels. The rise over the last half of 1961 is due mainly to increases in prices of chickens and fresh fruit and vegetables.

The department said that despite the increased purchasing power of consumers and the expected relatively abundant supply of food available at favorable prices for this year, consumption of food per capita probably will average about the same as in 1961.

Retail food prices trended moderately downward through most of the second half of 1961, but in December they turned upward slightly.

Meat supplies are down seasonally, but still greater than last winter. Consumption per capita in 1962 probably will average a little below last year's rate since the increase in meat supply is likely to be less than population growth. Retail meat prices this year are not expected to be much different from those of 1961.

The expected increase in beef production, largely in the second half of 1962, is not likely to be large enough to yield a consumption rate equal to last year's record high. The department expects beef prices during the next few months should hold steady to strong. Pork supplies are running seasonally low and retail prices have increased from relatively low levels at the end of last year. In the early spring, retail prices for pork are expected to decline slightly again with the seasonal rise in pork supplies.

The department said consumption per capita of both broilers and turkeys probably will be moderately lower this year than last. The large build-up of broiler supplies during the second quarter of 1961, which resulted in a very sharp price decline, is not expected to be repeated this year. Retail prices of broilers have increased from the low levels at the end of 1961. They are expected to be about the same as a year earlier in the next few months. Egg supplies, now rising seasonally, will be more plentiful in the first half than a year earlier. Retail prices are likely to decline seasonally.

The large commercial stocks of dairy products on Jan. 1 and prospects for further increases in production indicate that market

His brother, Chelo, of 31-818 Neuma Road, put the sign up only half in jest after clearing drifted sand away from his home a few yards from the intersection. In one of the worst sand-blow seasons yet, the drifted silica required a $100 investment by Salazar, who is a gardener, just to get his garage cleared. (Desert Sun Photo)

LARGEST EMPLOYER

Big Government Is Big Business

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In spring, a taxpayer's thoughts likely turn to the size of the government payroll.

How big is it now? Is it growing? How does it compare with yesteryear?

The latest report from the U.S. Civil Service Commission shows that the federal government has about 2,400,000 civilian employees, which makes it the largest employer in the world. Federal payroll costs, not counting the military, run just over $1.1 billion a month.

Although it has undergone fluctuations from year to year, the number of federal employees is approximately the same now as it was 10 years ago.

In relation to total population, federal employment is somewhat lower than 10 years ago, but a lot higher than 20 or 30 years ago.

10 Per Cent Growth
The big increase in public employment during recent years has been in state and local governments. The Census Bureau reports that the number of people earning their bread from state and local government jobs increased from 4,285,000 in 1950 to 6,387,000 in 1960. The combined payrolls of state and municipal governments now come to about $2.2 billion a month—twice the federal outlay.

Total public employment—federal, state and local—thus adds up to 8,800,000 persons, or 49 out of every 1,000 in the population.

Since government services inevitably grow with the population, the number of public employees per 1,000 Americans is a fair yardstick to use in comparing present and past payrolls.

By this yardstick, public employment has grown by about 10 per cent during the past 10 years—from 44 to 49 per 1,000 population. As noted above, virtually all of the increase took place at the state and municipal government level. A large part of it reflects the expansion of public school facilities. More than 45 per cent of all state and local employees are in the field of education. The next largest categories are hospitals, 10 per cent, and highways, 9 per cent.

Peak In 1945
Considering federal employment only, it has actually declined over the past 10 years in terms of a percentage of population. In 1951, 16 of every 1,000 Americans were civilian employees of the federal government. Today 13 of every 1,000 hold such jobs.

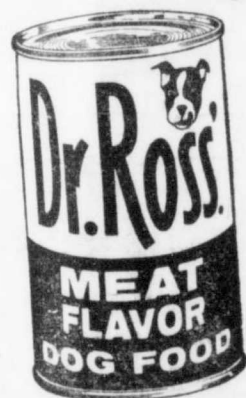

Looking farther back into history, the peak federal employment was reached in 1945, the last year of World War II, when 3,816,000 civilians were employed. In terms of population, that was 27 out of every 1,000 Americans.

In 1940, the last full year before the outbreak of World War II, the federal government employed 1,042,000 civilians, or only 8 of every 1,000 persons in the population.

In 1931, just before the Franklin D. Roosevelt New Deal, there were 610,000 federal employees—just 5 for every 1,000 population.

A century ago, during the first year of the Civil War, the federal government employed 367,000 persons—one for every 1,000 persons in the population.

TV in Review

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPD) — The Knights of the Round Table will have a helluva time finding King Arthur from now on, at least on the "new television series being prepared for next season."

Sitting low in the saddle as good King Arthur will be—WALLY COX!
Arthur is supposed to have stood seven feet tall in his stocking feet. Wally could almost walk under the top half of a Dutch door. And from old woodcuts Arthur looked to weigh about 225 pounds. Wally is approximately 100 pounds short of that.

Spiritual Giant
Best remembered to televisioners as "Mr. Peepers" and "Hiram Holliday," a pair of characters better known for their sagacity than brute strength, Cox draws himself up to his full height when it is suggested he does not fill the image of King Arthur.
"I admit there is a fair disparity in our physical structure," Cox said owlishly, "but spiritually there is no difference. I am seven feet in spiritual stature."
In Hollywood briefly for a TV segment of "Follow the Sun" at 20th Century Fox Studios, Wally is convinced he is right for King Arthur.

"Viewers seeking an enrichment of their knowledge of the period—if not disappointed—will at least be confused when they see me in the role."
Carol Burnett probably will co-star as Lady Guinevere in the Max Liebman production. That's all Wally knows about it.
"We make the pilot next month," he added brightly. For a time Wally was silent as he dispatched a chocolate sundae in the commissary. Suddenly he looked up and said, "you've been poking fun at the idea that I will be playing a man the size of King Arthur."

Deceptively Strong
"But I'm very deceiving physically. I am almost embarrassingly sturdy. My muscles have developed by the carpentry and electrical work I've been doing in my house."
"Sometimes I go on hikes, too."
Despite these awesome admissions, Wally secretly hopes Liebman does not select some giant to play Sir Lancelot. It could be fatal.
None-the-less, Wally is an intellectual seven feet tall, and proved it with his new book, "My Life As a Small Boy."

Nigeria's Officials Set Lonely Example

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — From far-off Nigeria comes a message that could have worldwide repercussions were it not more likely to be universally ignored.

The message, relayed to me by

New Woes Seen at War's End

By PHIL NEWSON

Notes from the foreign news cables:

French Troubles:

The signing of a cease-fire in Algeria will bring France a couple of fresh problems. One probably will be a huge influx of Europeans from Algeria to France. The other probably will be a general election a year ahead of time. The Paris government is planning for the refugee invasion now. It is feared that at least 400,000 out of the 1.1 million European residents of Algeria may return to France, creating a major housing and job problem. The government plans to set aside at least one-fifth of all new state-owned housing units for refugees from Algeria. As for the election, it is generally believed that President Charles de Gaulle will dissolve Parliament and order a vote this spring—possibly in April—a year ahead of the scheduled time. He hopes popular relief over the ending of the Algerian War will give a big boost to the Gaullist party, the Union for the New Republic.

America's Allies:

America's European Allies are cool to the U.S. plan for them to join in a trade embargo against Cuba. The proposal made to the NATO Allies last week is under consideration, but there are signs of heavy going ahead for any such plan. A compromise appears to be shaping up under which the Allies would agree to an arms embargo on Cuba, leaving ordinary trade channels open.

Stamp of Approval:

The Indian seizure of Portuguese Goa is raising more problems for the United States. Goa has some of the finest ore deposits and port facilities in South Asia, and it is being suggested in India that India build a steel plant there to take advantage of these facts. Informal sources say the United States is seriously considering aiding the Indians in building the plant, no matter what the Portuguese reaction might be. They say it is a question of this or watching the Russians move in and help the Indians, thereby gaining a leg up in the cold war battle.

Polish-East German Relations: Look for a further cooling of Polish-East German relations which never have been very friendly anyway. The gradual cooling off began in October, 1960, when Poland turned away from the Stalinist cult while East Germany's Walter Ulbricht—a strong Stalinist—maneuvered to strengthen his position. The trend has been intensified since then.

a tribe of Madison Avenue drum-beaters, tells of an action by the Nigerian government that is nothing short of revolutionary. Leaders of that small African nation have broken a precedent that forms part of the very core and fiber of bureaucratic life as we know it on this planet.

If other countries were to follow in their footsteps it would disturb the peace in government offices from here to Samarkand.

Doubts Adoption
I strongly doubt, however, that any such trend will be established. For what the Nigerian officials did was cut their own salaries.

As explained by the Western Nigeria Information Office in New York, that nation is trying to finance a $972 million development program and needs to save money.

Its government therefore instituted an economy drive, led by Premier S. L. Akintola, who pruned his own salary by $1,400 a year plus giving up a $2,800 car allowance and a $495 driver's allowance.

All other ministers and the speaker of the House of Assembly took an $840 cut and also lost their car and driver allowances.

The wave of payroll hara-kiri extended all the way down to parliamentary secretaries, government whips, the opposition leader, and chairmen and members of government corporations.

Spread Unlikely
There is no cause for alarm, however. Chances are that this sort of radical behavior will be confined to Nigeria. Certainly there is not much danger of it catching on in the United States. President Kennedy just this week set up additional safeguards by sending to Congress a proposal to raise the pay of U.S. government employees an average of 10 per cent over the next three years.

The program calls for eventual increases to cabinet members and other departmental executives. This would be accompanied by an upward adjustment in congressional pay scales.

Clearly, what happened in Nigeria poses no threat to America, for which we can all be thankful, channels open.

'Star of Hope' Sought in Space

By PETER J. HAYES

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— John McConnell, 46, today dusted off his proposal for a "star of hope."

A few days after Russia launched Sputnik in 1957, McConnell began a campaign aimed at sending into orbit an illuminated satellite containing microfilm signatures of several million persons pledged to peace.

"The star would bling on and off so people could look up and see it and know they have made a commitment to world peace," McConnell said. "It would have a profound psychological value."

McConnell advanced the proposal in his weekly paper in Bakersville, N.C. He then launched a one-man crusade enlisting support from government officials, scientists and industrialists.

"Everyone said it was a good idea. Eleanor Roosevelt, Billy Graham, Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, Sens. Sam Ervin of North Carolina, Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin and Jacob Javits of New York. The big obstacle was how to do it."

Opportunity Now Here

The former newspaper publisher now believes with a missionary's zeal that last week's space developments gave him the foot in the door he's been waiting for.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev suggested that the United States and Russia cooperate in their space efforts following U.S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s successful orbital flight.

President Kennedy responded by announcing he had ordered officials to draw up new proposals for common action.

"I was surprised and happy over these statements," said McConnell. "I thought we'd never get the United States and Russia to join forces in space. I'm sure there is no empty gesture."

McConnell said he planned to seek new help from those people who originally supported his plan. He will ask them to apply pressure on the administration on its behalf.

A satellite such as the one envisioned by McConnell, has already been designed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, he said. It would be covered with solar batteries which would convert sunlight to electricity to provide illumination "for 50 years."

Would Serve Science

The satellite would serve science in addition to being a symbol of peace, McConnell said. The light could be photographed against the background of the star to provide more accurate geodetic survey points.

As for the signatures, he said he was told it is possible to put 100 million signatures on three ounces of microfilm.

While McConnell is seeking help from the government, he is firm in his conviction that such a venture should be sponsored by all of the peoples of the world.

"It can't be just a U.S. project," he said. "It might be interpreted as just propaganda. How would we feel if Russia launched a peace satellite?"

McConnell said he was not promoting pacifism or any form of world government. His goal, he said, is summed up in the pledge for which he is seeking signatures: "I, a citizen of this planet, dedicate my friendship and knowledge to work for peace among all men. I will vigorously aid the efforts that heal, build and unite."

Count Yogi Says Golf Is Simple

By BOB ABBEY

Reporting sports is not only interesting — but fun. A sports reporter meets many colorful and intriguing personalities besides the unusual ones. One could say Count Yogi could touch the bases in all of these categories, after spending any time what-so-ever with the golfer that states, "golf is a simple game — nothing to it!"

He readily proclaims, "all accepted theories of teaching golf are wrong and I offer to prove it at any time or any place as long as a golf club and ball are available." It really is a novel and so seldom one hears anything different about golf — except the golfers' scores. But when you spend a little time with Yogi one begins to hear that the entire golfing world is wrong — and only the Count is right.

During my visit to the Palm Springs Country Club Golf Center where Count Yogi teaches from January to Easter, he gave an exhibition of some of his many "golf shots" and set about to prove what he maintains — "golf to me has been a simple game — nothing to it! Without theories, without anatomies, using an infallible mental routine which I call the Yoga Cosmic System of Golf; all straight... with distance... recorded as high as 453 yards."

It is known the world over that Yogi and the PGA have had many disagreements. He does not deny this fact. He says, "I cannot join what I don't believe in. I was forced out of tournament play because I disagreed with the PGA."

Among his treasured possessions he has several scrap-books which are filled with clippings from newspapers and magazines throughout the world. He has proof that he has been in the 50's five different times, and has records of 34 holes-in-one, just to mention a few of his many feats.

The Count summed up the little chat we had by saying, "giving others golf in its simplicity as I know it has been my greatest goal and my greatest reward."

"CHEEKS" WAGNER

Angel Outfielder Was Pleasant Surprise

By HAL WOOD

PALM SPRINGS (UPI) — One of the big men in the plans of manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels this year is outfielder Leon Wagner.

Wagner was the pleasant surprise of the 1961 campaign when he batted .280 and knocked in 79 runs.

"It was determination that did it," said the 26-year-old who is known to his teammates as "Cheeks."

"I was determined when the Angels brought me up from Toronto that I was going to stay in the big leagues. I was so determined that I would have hit National League pitching as well as I did the American League."

"And Harry Walker, St. Louis coach, made a much better fielder out of me than I ever had been before. When the San Francisco Giants traded me to St. Louis, I was having trouble with my fielding. But Walker worked on me for hours. Any improvement I have had in that department should be credited to him. "And when my fielding improved, then my hitting got going. It stopped me from worrying."

Wagner figures he'll play in at least 130 games this year. Rigney left-handed hitting outfielder against "certain types" of southpaws.

The other outfielders on the Angel roster who are slated for duty are little Albie Pearson, Ken Hunt and Lee Thomas. Rigney says there is a good chance he'll give Thomas a good tryout at first base. In that case, the outfield seems to be well set with Pearson, Hunt and Wagner.

"Maybe the American League pitching was below par last year," says Leon. "But I believe I can hit any kind of pitching now."

"I'm a pull hitter. It's too bad I'm not in the National League where I could get a chance to play in New York's Polo Grounds. That's made for pull hitters."

Wagner revealed that after the Giants sold him to St. Louis, they tried to buy him back.

"Both Bing Devine of the Cards and later Willie Mays of the Giants told me that San Francisco

VERO BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—The Los Angeles Dodgers have a new captain today—the first in four years—and now they're looking at a new infielder.

Native Californian Duke Snider, still a powerful hitter at 35, was appointed captain of the Dodgers Tuesday. It's the first time captain the Dodgers have had since Pee Wee Reese retired from baseball.

At the same time, Dodgers general manager E. J. (Buzzi) Bavasi said he was interested in infielder Andy Carey, who said he would not report to the Philadelphia Phillies.

Carey was traded to the Phils along with minor league pitcher

This new group will meet at the club each Tuesday morning at 9 a.m. for their regular ladies day golf tourney.

Lilly's Team Cops Weekly Choose Up

With a field of 14 teams entered, the foursome of Budd Reininghaus, Dom DeRosa, Howard Lilly and William Reichel carded a low score of 50 to cop the weekly Choose Up tourney at the O'Donnell Golf Club.

One-stroke off the pace with a score of 51 and placing second was the foursome of Gail Cave, Amos Bomberger, Charles Chiapetta and Carl Haymond. Third place honors went to the team of Jim Brown, Dr. C. H. Baldwin, Don Lee and Roy Maryatt who came in with a score of 53.

Three other teams finished in a tie for fourth place in a weekly 18 hole tourney.

Angels in Golf Event At San Jacinto Club

After a short session of calisthenics and a few running periods, Skipper Bill Rigney called a halt to yesterday's workout and the golfers among the ball players joined members of the San Jacinto Country Club in an 18-hole golf tourney.

A group of 34 Angels joined 34 San Jacinto CC members and paired off in teams of two for the blind bogey event over the beautiful 18 hole San Jacinto layout.

The echo of a shotgun blast started the 18 hole tourney as the team were standing ready to tee off from the 18 tees on the course.

When the last foursome had checked in with Ron Nicol, head pro at the club, and scores had been posted, Angel hurler Johnny James was low scorer among the ball players and topped the field with a score of 32.

Four of his teammates deadlocked for runner-up spot with scores of 33. They were coaches Del Rice, Rocky Bridges, Jack Paepke and pitcher Paul Mosley.

Tom Grier carded the lowest score of 32 for the members to nail down first place honors. Second place among the members was won by Wally Hartst, who finished with a score of 33 and Bill Davis, Sol Goetz, Clark Reynolds and Tom Kramer finished tied for third for third with a total of 34.

Rig, the field boss, and Albie Pearson, the Angels speedy outfielder, had low gross scores for the day as little Albie nosed out the skipper by one stroke when he toured the lush San Jacinto course in 74 blows. Rig finished with a fine round of 75.

Both LA Angel team members play a great deal of golf during the off-season and informed Nicol, the club pro, that the course played very well and appeared in excellent condition.

Santa Fe Escrow took over first place in the Bantam Boys league at the PS Bowl when they took two games from Service to replace Federal at the top of the standings by one game.

Santa Fe Savings took high game honors with a total of 736 pins and Federal rolled high team series of 1,381.

Randy Svoboda rolled games of 126-136 for a 262 series; Alan Ames had games of 120-110 for a 230 series; Ricky Buresh knocked over 121 pins in one game and Bruce Blauvelt rolled a 120 game.

TOUR-MINDED
NEW YORK (UPI) — Charles C. (Cash and Carry) Pyle, who made the deal with George Halas to take Red Grange on tour with the Chicago Bears in 1925, also helped to popularize tennis by taking Suzanne Lenglen of France on a tour of the United States in 1926.

Los Angeles Angels' third baseman Eddie Yost has played more games than any other man in baseball history. At the end of the 1961 season the total stood at 2,057.

SLUGGER

Thomas on Limited Service

First discouraging bit of news to come out of the LA Angels spring training camp at the Polo Grounds here, was revealed last yesterday when word was received that Lee Thomas would be placed on limited service after X-rays disclosed a broken bone in his right foot.

Thomas, star first baseman-outfielder in his rookie year with the Angels in 1961, has a fracture of the sesmoid bone in the ball of the foot under the toe according to Dr. Robert Kerlan, of Los Angeles, who examined the 26-year-old slugger.

Angels' Skipper Bill Rigney indicated that a special arch support is being made for Thomas which will be necessary for him to wear on and off the playing field. Rig plans to have the slugger continue to take limited batting practice and will work out some around first base.

Thomas injured the foot during a workout session in his hometown in St. Louis before reporting to spring training. When the injury continued to bother the Angel's slugger, who hit 24 home runs in 132 games with the ball club last year, a special trip to Los Angeles for a medical examination was ordered.

The Angels' top brass hope for a speedy recovery of the club's rookie of the year in 1961 and that surgery will not be necessary as was hinted by Dr. Kerlan if the injury doesn't respond after using the special arch for a time.

FOREIGN AID and aid to education were among subjects discussed at Committee of 25 luncheon yesterday hosted by James Kemper, right. In pre-luncheon discussion with Kemper are Richard A. Momen, left, only United States citizen practicing law in Brazil, and Dr. F. A. Pinkham, president of Ripon College, Wis.

Committee of 25 Hears F. Pinkham

"A small, privately endowed college such as Ripon in Wisconsin, is just about the only institution left in America, public or private, which is not under the thumb and management of the subsidies of government," President Fred A. Pinkham of Ripon College told a group of 30 businessmen at a Tuesday luncheon of the Committee of 25 in their Palm Springs clubroom.

The meeting was presided over by James A. Kemper, board chairman of Kemper Industries, a trustee of the college.

Responsibility

"There is no reason why such educational institutions cannot operate in the back as we do at Ripon," Dr. Pinkham told the group. "You businessmen are partially responsible for deficit operations. You give generously to endowment funds," he said, "without asking

Dry Land Gets Water

Homestead owners residing on a half section west of Palm Desert who have had their water hauled to their homes at a cost of $1.00 for 100 gallons, moved closer to a domestic water system yesterday.

Their lands, located in Section 36, T5S 5E, were annexed to the Coachella Valley County Water District following a hearing where no protests were submitted.

Immediately after the hearing a group of residents of the parched lands started the procedure for formation of an Improvement District to finance installation of a domestic water system to be operated by the CVCWD.

Dire Need

"Our need is a dire one," a spokesman for the group said. "We now haul our water at a cost of $1.00 per 100 gallons, but the man doing the hauling doesn't think he will be able to continue this much longer. We don't have any time to lose."

It was reported that the sponsoring group now is seeking support from residents in another section and a half, with the hope that the whole area may be served under the upcoming domestic water system.

Shopping

Residents of a big chunk of desert lands — an area that eventually may reach nearly 50 square miles in scope — are "shopping around" for a domestic water system.

The district is located in the area southeast of Desert Hot Springs, including Sky Valley and Fun Valley as well as several other home and farm sections lying between Highway 99 and the mountain range.

On Sunday nearly 300 property owners within the area did their first "shopping" when they heard a talk by Lowell O. Weeks, general manager of the Coachella Valley County Water District, who outlined the possible course of action if the area decided to annex to the CVCWD and seek domestic water service. The district manager was accompanied to the big session, which became tempestuous at times as factions became vocal.

Director Frost's district. Later the residents will look into the possibility of obtaining service from the newly-formed Desert Hot Springs County Water District or the North Palm Springs County Water District, they announced.

Page 12 THE DESERT SUN Wednesday, Feb. 28, 1962

Clouds may threaten rain (rain that's what the desert had been praying for these past few years) but they make Arizona-like skies in sun time and Paris-type skies at night, with the moon illuminating them.

Snow (that's what they are wading through back east) makes the mountains beautiful and stores up more water for the desert. The golf courses are green and beautiful and flowers that survived the frost are blooming their heads off.

February is a beautiful month in California and April, that is even nicer, is still on the calendar ahead.

Millie Considine, whose arrival always sets off parties like a string of firecrackers and whose birthday has inspired Rosie Dolly Netcher's Friday night black tie party at the Biltmore, is due in Los Angeles tonight with Frances Moody Newman. Of course, (don't be SILLY) there's a party waiting for them there, hosted by the Bob Enders. They'll fly down here tomorrow.

Millie is just back from Nassau where she attended the opening of Huntington Hartford's new Ocean Club on Paradise Island. She says it's fabulous and the $140,000 opening night party was fantastic. There were 1,000 guests. Among them Meyer Davis and his band, a great fireworks display, with Zsa Zsa Gabor, Liz Whitney, Tony Randall, Peter Lind Hayes and half of Palm Beach.

This culminated a 10 day round of parties in Palm Beach including twist luncheons if you can believe it, and caused Millie to write "Palm Beach is even worse than P.S. for parties... it's absolutely all they do."

Telegrams used to cause an extra heart beat (before Joe Glason made them the accepted mode for writing a letter) and now overseas phone calls have been de-bunked.

Dolph Oberfel called Kay from Japan (he's there on business) and you know what they talked about? ... Kay told him that she had a sore throat, and he told her to go to bed so she would be in shape for the Netcher party. Honest.

In again-out again George and Rosalie Hearst are here for two days (they came down from San Simeon) and are going into L.A. for a couple of days (on dental business) and then expect to be in Palm Springs for awhile. They will, of course, be here for the Hearst Ball, which they are underwriting for WAIF on Mr. 10 at the Riviera.

Just before returning to their penthouse in the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, Tom and Lynn Starr Hull hosted a small dinner in their Palm Springs home entertaining Frank Thomas (TV producer-writer, who has just completed the "Joe and Josie" pilot, and who is spending much time in Palm Springs working on another TV series titled "Tales of Broadway," hour-long dramas with the big street background).

Another dinner guest at the Hull home was Ruth Kanin (Garson's sister) who is a partner with Thomas.

The basic-black-and-pearls younger set which was at the Margolis party at the Racquet Club the other night showed up for the second show the night Julie London opened at ChiChi. Headed by Joni and Bob Blashek, the group included the Habers, Alexanders, Levins, Borkas plus the Dick Bagdasarians. They had all been over to the Monte Carlo night at Desert Inn.

Connie and Ruby came over from The Dunes and headed up a table of music lovers.

Guests were treated to what Bill Alexander termed a "third and fourth show" when both Henny Youngman and Eddie Bracken were introduced from the stage. Henny tossed several wonderful lines at the stay-up-laters and Eddie wowed them with one long joke. Julie London's second show ensemble was an exciting green and the matching stole was a froth of maribou feathers.

PERC WESTMORE, who has created hair styles for many film stars, tells TV Producer Mary Markham, on left, that she's right to have long hair, but should abandon the spit curls for kiss curls (frayed out at the end) and suggested a light bang. On right, Hildy Crawford, Women's editor of The Desert Sun, gets it all down on paper. (P.S. NewsPhoto)

PERC WESTMORE SAYS

The Bouffant Hair - Do Is Out

By HILDY CRAWFORD

"The bouffant hair-do is dead!" and the Cleopatra style is certain to follow the release of the multi-million dollar Elizabeth Taylor movie, Perc Westmore said as he sat in the sunshine, poolside at Howard Manor. He spoke as interestingly and sincerely as though this were his first interview instead of about the 300th during his 30 years with Warner Brothers, as Hollywood's best-known make-up man.

As he kissed off the bouffant hair style, he mentioned casually that the necessary back combing is bad for the hair and that when it is combed afterwards it results in fuzz.

He defined the Egyptian or Cleopatra look as bangs cut straight across the forehead, and hair to the jaw line. In reply to the question "will this mean straight hair?" he said "Not necessarily. There will be a need for a light permanent . . . and there'll be movement, perhaps even wave effects."

He predicted the film will also have a noticeable effect on the costume jewelry business, with heavy choker and bib necklaces popular.

The man who has known and enhanced the beauty of some of the world's greatest beauties, believes strongly that beauty should be natural looking, and that when a woman is complimented on her hairdo or her costume, it is an indication that it is a trifle overdone . . . that she has missed somehow in a general effect of rightness.

Bridal Beauty

Commenting that "only the man upstairs is a beauty expert," he cited the example of the radiant, glowing bride. "It's an inner projection coming through," Westmore says and for genuine beauty, he advises mothers to build within their daughters a feeling of beauty instead of being critical of minor faults.

"I'm in the cosmetic business," he said, "but my advice in make up is to play it down."

He said the ads in the magazines are overdone to create interest and the woman who uses that much makeup or a screen type makeup will look hard and blatant.

In the same trend, he disapproves of the unusual or way-out hair style, saying emphatically, "I do not approve of the trick head." He continued, "I like to see a natural head of hair." He advised that just because a hair style is popular does not mean it is for every woman. As to hair length, he believes that everyone who does professional work on stage or screen or modeling, should keep their hair long. For the average woman he advises that hair never be cut less than three inches in the back.

Women, he says, should have permanents only to give body to their hair, never for tight, kinky curls. He thinks that women do screwball things with their hair or their makeup, just to attract attention and only succeed in making themselves less attractive.

The Fashion Wig

Enthusiastic about the fashion wig, he said that he expects it to be in for at least two or three years.

Because it's always a problem of how to keep your hair from slipping down and showing under a country from Canada. Perc, himself, I asked how he solves this self-invented hair lace wig in

What has been the greatest challenge and what he has liked best in his career has been creating sensitive makeups for some of the great movie stars, like Paul Muni in "Good Earth" and like Betty Davis (he was with her in 98 out of her 106 pictures) as Queen Elizabeth.

A native of Canterbury Kent, England, Westmore was only 12 when he started wig making, working with his father George, who was the one to bring the first permanent wave machine into this country from Canada. Perc, himself, I asked how he solves this self-invented hair lace wig in

Six Las Palmas Homes Will Be Shown on Tour

Palm Springs Branch of the American Association of University Women has announced plans for the sixth annual home tour that will take place in the Las Palmas area on Sunday, March 4, from 1-5 p.m.

The occasion has been made possible by the generous response of the home owners and the AAUW Home Tour committee. The chairman, Mrs. Brad Davis, reports, "We hope that this tour will be as successful as our previous tours. The committee has tried to bring to the public a variety of homes from the standpoint of architecture, decor, landscaping, price range, age and size." The homes encompass the modernization of Roman architecture, the Persian influence, and the circular trend. Also there are all the modern trends and the new materials actually in use, she said.

The reason for this project is to make it possible for more women to obtain scholarships and fellowships. This enables them to carry on inquiry, free investigation, and constant research.

A tour handbook has been prepared and will be available with the tickets at the Chamber of Commerce offices in Palm Springs, Cathedral City and Palm Desert. Tickets may also be purchased at any of the homes toured, the day of the tour: Robert Alexander, 1350 Ladero Circle; Jackie Cooper, 1055 Rose Drive; Arthur Elford, 350 Via Lola; George Frelinghuysen, 711 Panorama Drive; Eddie LeBaron, 328 Mountain View Drive; Robert Marx, 468 Camino Del Sur.

The Robert Marx home will linger in the memory of all those who see it as an exemplification of Classical Modern Roman architecture. Some of the numerous examples of the classical period are the white columns and the shape of the pool.

The owner, Robert Marx, is the designer, builder, and landscape artist and the setting and effect are considered to be an unusual and distinctive achievement. It is a home that might well be on a hill near the Acropolis.

The massive floor-to-ceiling hand-carved doors give a warm and inviting atmosphere to those entering the home. The hall effect is achieved by the use of the new white unfinished marble that serves as a wall and also as a fireplace on the living room side. The far side of this living room opens on to the patio and grass that separates the house from the pool. A statue of "Rebecca at the Well" makes a complete picture.

The French flocked drapes at the window keep the interior decor in harmony with the classical and the antique Venetian mirror adds much to the effect.

Money Money Earns Subject to Taxation

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of five dispatches on how to prepare your income tax in the most economical manner. Today's dispatch covers payments and allowable deductions on interest, dividends, sick pay and taxes.)

By EDWARD COWAN

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You must pay income taxes not only on the money you earn but also on the money your money earns. That means that all the interest you received last year, and dividends above $50, are taxable. Interest is taxable even if you had it credited to a thrift account and did not take it in cash. Interest on a loan is taxable even if the principal itself was not paid back to you. (There are, however, provisions for taking bad debt deductions.)

Dividends, although taxable, come in for special treatment in two ways:

—The first $50 you received in 1961 is not taxable.

—Generally you may take a credit against your tax of 4 per cent of dividends above $50.

Income On Dividends

Suppose, for example, a taxpayer received $30 in dividends in 1961. He reports this on his return but does not include it in his taxable income because it is less than $50.

Another taxpayer received $85 in dividends on his stock. He reports that but pays tax only on $35. He may also take 4 per cent of the $35 ($1.40) as a credit against his tax.

In a joint return, a husband and wife may not combine their $50 exclusions. Each may take one exclusion separately. Suppose he received $70 of dividends and she received $20. He reports the $70, pays the tax on $20 and takes a tax credit of 80 cents (4 per cent of $20). Her $20 of dividends also is reported on the return. It is not taxable. Her unused allowance of $30 is not applicable to the husband's dividends.

These rules apply to dividends.

New Words Suggested For Our Use

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — "Telephone neck" and "shoulder drag" have been suggested as new words for our vocabulary.

Dr. J. Lamorne De Rusha (D-R), dean of the Northwestern College of Chiropractic of Minneapolis, Minn., said the new words describe "headaches" of the neck and shoulders. He spoke at a meeting of the California Chiropractic Association.

"It seems modern conveniences such as air conditioning and car riding with open windows play a part in bringing on these conditions," he said.

"The year-round habit of tilting and rotating the head while on the phone, common among office workers, causes muscle pull to reposition the neck vertebrae, or bones, which then irritate nerves in that area causing pain and 'telephone neck.'"

De Rusha said poor shoulder posture produces the "shoulder drag" which results in irritation of the nerves of the head, neck, shoulders, arms and hands.

paid on the common and preferred stocks of fully taxable U.S. corporations. They do not apply to the so-called "dividends" of savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks and similar institutions. These "dividends" are actually taxable interest.

Dividends on most life insurance policies are not considered income for tax purposes.

Pay When Cashed

U.S. Savings Bonds-Holders of these bonds need not report the interest that accrues each year. They may defer reporting this income until the bonds are cashed.

On Series E Savings Bonds the interest is the difference between the purchase price and the bond's present cash value.

A taxpayer also may elect to report the interest each year instead of waiting until he cashes his bonds. If he chooses yearly reporting he must stick to it even for bonds he acquires in the future. To change to deferred reporting he must first get permission from the Revenue Service.

Sick pay—You may deduct up to $100 a week of sick pay under certain conditions. If you were sick at home for more than seven consecutive days, the pay you received starting with the eighth day may be excluded from your income. You may deduct one-fifth of your weekly pay (but not more than $20) for each day missed if you are on a five-day week; one-sixth (but not more than $16.67) if you work a six-day week.

Sick Pay

You may deduct sick pay starting with the first day if you are away from the job because of injury, no matter where suffered, or if your illness caused you to be a hospital patient for at least one day. Again, you may not deduct more than $100 a week.

If you claim sick pay deductions, be sure to attach Form 2440 to your return to support the claim. This form can be obtained at your nearest Internal Revenue Service office.

Retirement income which is not several special rules governing taxation of retirement income. If you received retirement income in 1961 and have any doubt about how to treat it on your tax return, consult your tax adviser or the Internal Revenue Service.

Retirement income which is not taxable and need not be reported includes Social Security payments, Railroad Retirement Act pensions, veterans, or payments for injury or sickness to military personnel disabled in active service.

Whether other retirement income is taxable, and how much, depends on several things, especially whether you or your employer or both of you made contributions to the pension fund and whether taxes were paid.

There also are provisions for special retirement income credits. Persons 65 or older should remember that by virtue of their age they are entitled to two $600 exemptions, or a total of $1,200.

Regardless of your age, retirement income does not include money you are now earning by work.

Equal Justice for All Is Aim

The Desert Bar Association of Riverside County which covers the vast area from San Geronimo Pass to the Colorado River is embarked on a worthwhile campaign — to make justice equally available to all.

A committee appointed by Henry V. Cleary, president of the association, is investigating the feasibility of the appointment of a full-time investigator for the use of the public defender's office in the county.

The public defender and his deputies are appointed to their positions to represent the person or persons, accused of a major crime, who are financially unable to employ an attorney to defend them.

Many times the defense of those accused is based on evidence which must be presented by others than themselves, factual situations for which witnesses must be found to support the claims of the defendant.

These witnesses must be found and after found, must be interviewed and their stories verified. This all consumes time and is also a process which the indigent defendant is unable to handle financially.

Too frequently, too, the public defender and his staff have no time or funds to conduct these investigations. They are, after all, all attorneys with their own business to look after and many times the time available is insufficient to insure a complete defense.

They cannot fully investigate the defense as represented by their client who has not the money to engage special investigators. Thus, many times the public defender is hampered in his attempt to defend his client in court.

The district attorney's office, which prosecutes these crimes, has a staff of full time investigators to unearth the evidence for the state.

Because of this, the representation of an indigent who is charged with a crime and hauled into court, is not equal to the people's case as represented by the district attorney or a member of his staff.

The indigent is under a severe handicap at the very outset as he cannot employ help to substantiate his defense.

Members of the Desert Bar Association are of the opinion as expressed in their recent meeting that the full time services of an investigator or investigators, for the defense is required.

Only in this manner, they believe, can indigent defendants be given equal protection under the laws.

As all are entitled to equal rights under the law, the program of the desert attorneys seems a logical and worthy one.

Statistics Support Freeways

The annual report of the California State Division of Highways should allay the apprehension of those motorists who shun the Freeways and stick to the surface streets because of an imagined danger.

The official report reveals that modern Freeways carry more traffic in greater safety than any other type of highway.

Statistics compiled by the Division of Highways reveal that on ordinary highways the average fatal accident rate is about nine per hundred million miles of vehicle travel.

On the Freeways, the rate is less than three per hundred million miles of traffic.

This safety factor is further enhanced by the report that one Freeway lane carries three times the traffic of one normal street lane.

Although the number of automobiles on California highways and Freeways has more than doubled since 1947 when the Freeways first began to exert their influence, traffic is moving better and more safely today.

In California approximately 400 miles of Freeway routes are adopted each year and the safety factor is being increased each year, the statistics show.

California leads the nation in highway toll during every long weekend or holiday but when the rate of fatal accidents per miles of vehicle travel is reported, California is not the nation's leading state in casualties, it was pointed out.

Republicans Hewing to the Line

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Aside from the upset election last year of Senator John Tower of Texas, the Republicans have had almost nothing to cheer them—yet they continue, to their credit, to hew to the prescribed line.

That is, they are making a serious drive into the heart land of national affairs, going after governorships and House seats, which are far closer to the American people than U. S. Senatorships and the lonely life of the political gypsy as personified by Harold Stassen.

In 1952 the GOP held a majority of the governorships, and it led on to national victory. The succeeding years saw hideous slaughter in the State capitals of supposedly impregnable Republican strongholds from Maine to Oregon, from Pennsylvania to California. Only this year the GOP stalwarts were tantalized when, with every expectation of winning in New Jersey, they lost to the Democratic underdog Richard Hughes who, as we learned later, "neglected to read his own political obituaries."

Due for a Win
Nevertheless, the feeling of the railbirds is that the Republican nag is overdue for a win in some of these governorship stakes, and is due to continue an improving performance in elections for the House. Nothing that's happened to Nelson Rockefeller will prevent his making a reelection sweep in

New York, Richard Nixon, winner in California over John F. Kennedy in 1960, believes that this augurs well for a win over Governor Pat Brown this year.

With a Democratic donkeybrook including Governor Daniel, General Walker and John Connally working up in Texas, either of the Republican candidates, Jack Cox or Rog Whittenberg, could get lucky and win. The appearance of George Romney in Michigan, despite some disgruntlement by the Old Guard, makes a Republican the favorite for the governorship, which long has been in Democratic hands. Oregon has been recovered for the Republicans by Governor Mark Hatfield, and there is a strong likelihood that the incredible Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin will once more become the first citizen of Maryland.

Pennsylvania, another lost province of Republicanism, could be the best news of the year for the GOP party chiefs. Republican Senator Hugh Scott, who says he's tired of seeing losers picked by losers, is a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination. He will try to wrest it from Superior Court Judge Robert Woodside, who is the choice of well-meaning but luckless oligarchy which for years has been sending sacrificial lambs down the gullets of Democratic wolves.

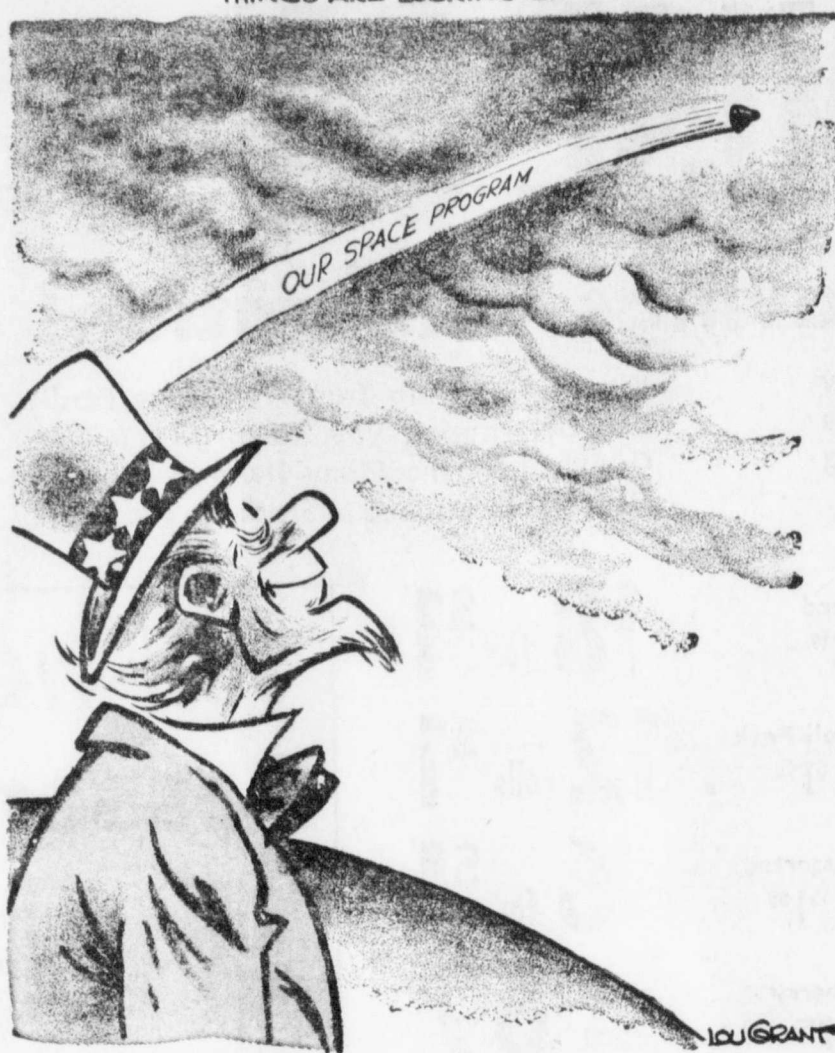

Won't Happen This Year
It won't happen this year, if Scott gets the nomination. He was born in Virginia, where political professionalism is acquired at puberty. Since then the Senator has become as proficient and personable a practitioner as any man in the country. Nothing is sure in politics, but Scott's announcement has changed the Keystone State from a probable lost cause to a glowing opportunity for Republicans.

It may change something else as well. Although he is definitely left-of-Goldwater, a Scott victory would lower the content of Me-Too in the GOP. If the Senator goes to Harrisburg, no other Governor will match him in what the Republicans most need—a witty, enlightened, personally unassailable needler of Democrats. From the day of Mr. Kennedy's nomination in 1960, Scott has lampooned him, his family, his Frontier, his Hundred Days, his failures, his favoritism in press relations, his No Win advisors, his fondness for neutralist nations and his cumbersome legislative programs.

Washington soothsayers are at a loss to know why Scott would voluntarily leave this flowery city for the less conspicuous charms of Harrisburg. There are no recent indications that Governors fare better than Senators in the grab for presidential nominations. The easiest explanation of Scott's motives may be the best one. He likes to fight Democrats, and he'll be a very big national Republican if he whips them this time.

THINGS ARE LOOKING UP

THIS SIDE Of The Sun

R. F. "Phat" GRAETTINGER

What's become of luminous paint
Once used on traffic lanes?
Some now so dim they almost ain't
Especially when it rains.

In a reckless and devil-may-care mood last weekend, I took to the highways and the freeways. I had to. It was the only way I could get to, and come from, watching the big handicap at the Santa Anita horse oval.

RAIN BEGAN FALLING in mid-afternoon and was really pelted down as we started home. The windshield wipers had trouble keeping up with it. But that wasn't the big hazard.

The lines marking the traffic lanes hadn't been connected by a paint brush for a long time and were so dim as to be almost obliterated.

And nobody stayed in any specific lane, even those coming against us. I began to wish I'd stood in bed.

YEARS AGO when they first started marking lanes they used a white paint which, I'm told, was mixed with tiny beads of glass. No menace to tires but they stood out when the headlights hit them.

They use reflector glass on poles to warn you of curves and reflectors to mark bridges and obstacles close to the roadside.

CONSIDER THE BILLBOARDS which glow at night when your headlights shine on them. Even, it seems, when they don't.

So, if they've run out of glass beads, why not paint the stripes dividing lanes with the stuff they use on billboards?

Then, come cloudbursts, you'll still be able to stay on your own side.

PEOPLE WHO USE North Indian Avenue between Palm Springs and the north — Garnet and Desert Hot Springs—tell me that the center stripe on that thoroughfare is just about gone, sand-blasted out of sight.

That's a place where reflector striping would come in mighty handy. The road is narrow and the shoulders sandy.

WRITING ABOUT billboards reminds me — you'd be much surprised if you opened your Desert Sun and saw an advertisement of one of our fine restaurants inviting you to Thanksgiving dinner. Last Thanksgiving, I mean. You'd think this fine new building had gone to someone's head.

Well, along billboard alley north of town, every few miles, you can spot a big billboard inviting you to the 500-mile speedboat race at Salton Sea, Nov. 11-12.

That's Nov. 11-12, 1961.

THERE ARE NOW many billboards urging you not to miss the Date Festival at Indio which ended last weekend.

That presents a fine chance, if Sheriff Joe Rice isn't looking, to get up a pool at two-bits a throw, on how many weeks these now-out-of-date billboards will be there.

Using the 500 mile race ads as a past performance sheet, I'd pick next July, at least.

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: I am a sailor in the U. S. Navy. Recently I made plans to marry a 16-year-old girl from my home town. In order to get enough money to get married on I reenlisted in the Navy for six years. I got a $400 bonus.

When I went home to get married, my girl's father ran me out of the house and refused to let his daughter marry me. She's not old enough to marry without his consent. Now I'm in the Navy for six more years and can't get out. What should I do? —FLEET POST OFFICE

DEAR ABBY: My husband died suddenly last November. At a Christmas party I renewed acquaintance with a man I had known for years. On New Year's Eve he asked me to marry him. My teen-aged daughter became very upset when I told her, and said that out of respect to her father I should wait at least one year. When I told this man I wanted to wait, he cooled off and started seeing another woman in town. The talk around town is that he may marry her. I think I passed up a good thing and would

DEAR MISSED: Unless you can get word to him via a friend in a very subtle way, I am afraid you are out of luck. Don't call him. P. S. Your daughter may have done you a favor. The "love" your renewed acquaintance had for you was not very deeply rooted.

(San Bernardino Sun)

A recent editorial of ours praised America's teenagers as a fine crop of young citizens. This we sincerely believe. We think it an injustice to judge one errant boy or girl as representative of a group of 100.

It seems tragic that mischief or an irresponsible act by one teenager often brings, disrepute to a school and sometimes to an entire community. Consider, for example, an editorial which appeared in a Connecticut high school newspaper . . . The particular editorial created a storm of protest from student body members and the town's adult citizenry. . .

We concur with the school principal and faculty that a high school publication should be a forum for student opinion. . . On the other hand, we agree with the majority of adults who pronounced the editorial written in bad taste. . .

Our critical comment is not written from the judgment seat. Rather we would point out that thousands of well-written and poignant student editorials never achieve the recognition which the Connecticut high school newspaper's one editorial against patriotism rated. If you don't believe our teen-agers can write timely editorials, take time out to read the high school newspaper your boys and girls bring home.

Lindy Found Thorns In Crown of Glory

NEW YORK—Thirty-five years ago I trotted along Pennsylvania Avenue — with many others—cheering Charles A. Lindbergh. It was Lindy's big day in the nation's capital. President Coolidge had a medal waiting for him at the huge reception in the Washington Monument grounds, and a promotion from captain to colonel in the Army Air Corps Reserve.

It was the true dawn of the enchanting age of trans-ocean flying, though that age had been pried open briefly before that by Comdr. Read of the NC-4, by Alcock and Brown, and by an early Zeppelin or two. Lindbergh made it stick. He was in many respects the greatest folk hero this country ever produced.

Monday morning I was ambling, not trotting, alas, after Lt. Col. John Glenn, USMC, down the same avenue, watching him receive the acclaim of a young President who would have been as hard for Silent Cal to understand as space travel itself. John Glenn has been as big a shot in the arm for America as was Lindbergh.

Lustre Will Not Dim
Germans and the British preceded Lindbergh in the skies over the Atlantic. Russians were ahead of Glenn in space. But that won't dim the lustre of his day in Washington and his ticker-tape parade up Broadway next Thursday. This man will live in the schoolbooks of children centuries hence, just as no person who flies the Atlantic today—while feasting on a luxurious champagne dinner and watching a movie—ever really forgets that, 35 years ago, a kid found the way with the most primitive instruments, and sustained himself with a ham sandwich.

As time went on, Lindbergh developed an almost violent dislike for a public which, in effect, longed to touch the hem of his garment. He pushed past an admirer while entering the White House on a subsequent visit and the man fell over backwards. Pulling away from the terminal at the old Washington airport, on another trip, he gunned his engine and splattered the photographers who were snapping the departure. They cursed him.

On his good-will tour of Latin America (a path Glenn probably will follow) Lindbergh took one look at the reception committee advancing toward "the Spirit of St. Louis," on arrival at Bogota, Colombia, jumped out of his plane and into a waiting U.S. legation car and ordered the driver to take him away. The crowd, deeply hurt, picked up stones from the scabrous airport and threw them at the departing car. Editorials denounced the "snub," and the sales of an anti-U.S. book named "Uncle Sham" picked up.

In time the search for privacy led him to build a home in the remote reaches of Jersey's Sourland Mountains, with terrible consequences. After the trial and execution of his son's kidnapper-murderer, Lindbergh resolved to leave the country of his birth, the land whose peoples had idolized him.

He might still be living quietly in Britain if there had been no World War II. It drove him back to the U.S., eager to keep this country from becoming involved.

Unhappy Echo
He was called pro-Nazi, suffered the agony of having President Roosevelt, himself, reject his offer to serve his country in uniform after the bombing of Pearl Harbor. The airline which proudly proclaimed itself "The Lindbergh Line" painted his name off its ships.

He was too good a man to keep on the bench in a fight for the nation's life. On the Q.T., Gen. Hap Arnold and Henry Ford put him to work as an expediter of the B-24 program at Willow Run. Then the air corps sent him as a civilian to the South Pacific to extend the range of the P-38, during which activity he participated in raids against the Japanese and shot down a Zero.

Lindbergh has at long last gained the anonymity for which he hungered. He is hardly ever recognized as he goes about his various jobs, one of which is with Pan American World Airways. But his feat remains immortal.

Glenn is a much more gregarious man than was the Titan who preceded him, but he shares with Lindbergh the adventurer's spirit, the aeronautical engineer's skills, the shy grin, the clear-eyed honest kisser. It is not likely that he will ever be faced with the torments, political and ideological, which racked Lindbergh. The world has changed as much as the speeds of air vessels. One wishes him smooth sailing from here on, which, as we have seen, is not always the lot of the heroic figures.

Space Age Poses Serious Threats

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A military friend of mine with much experience in air warfare put astronaut John H. Glenn's achievement in focus for me. In frightening focus.

My friend said: "The greatest danger our country faces flows from the following possibilities: 'Science and technology have reached a state which makes it possible to place in space weapons which can control the people of the earth. Such weapons can be developed for an expenditure of few billions of dollars and be available by 1970 to 1973.

"The Russians are aware of this possibility. There may be agreement that space be reserved for peaceful purposes and that no weapons be placed in orbit. If such an agreement were made, we would keep it and no funds would be appropriated for space weapons. The Russians can be expected to go full out, despite any treaty agreement, to develop such weapons.

No Defense
"Thus, in 1970 or thereabouts the people of the United States would be forced to surrender.

"The antidote to such catastrophe is to proceed with all speed, energy and effort to develop optimum weapons for space. Equal priority must be given to the earliest development of defense systems against space weapons.

"No other problem facing the United States today is of equal importance or fraught with such fearful consequences."

My military friend was thinking out loud. He is an intelligent man of sound judgment. He does not indulge in loose talk nor in superlatives. When he uses such words as "the greatest danger our country faces today, he means exactly that.

So, too, when he says that under certain conditions the United States, defenseless, would have to surrender. He means that in absolute terms and within the time stated, less than 15 years.

This, then, is something for U.S. citizens to consider and to understand. Joseph L. Myler is the very competent reporter who experts for United Press International the news of the atomic and H-bombs.

Space H-Bomb

"Joe," I said to him, "what is this optimum weapon my friend mentioned?"

"Oh, you know," Joe replied, "it's that orbital H-bomb. You put it in orbit under electronic control. It spins around the earth until you decide where you want it to strike. Then, still under control, you bring it over the target, obtain its re-entry and let it go. BOOM!!!"

"Do we have it, or do the Russians?"

"No, we don't have it," Joe replied. "The Russians could do it rather easily, however, because they already have put in orbit very heavy objects. You remember, just the other day, Khrushchev talking about what he called a fantastic new Russian weapon.

"This space weapon," I suggested, "would be something like the Sword of Damocles, wouldn't it?"

"Yeah," said Joe, "sort of, maybe. But this orbital H-bomb is no fable."

Earlier I had said to my friend: "You really mean surrender?"

"Yeah," he said, "I really mean the United States would be forced to surrender."

TRANSPORTATION DAY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy has designated May 18 as National Defense Transportation Day in recognition of the transportation industry's contribution to the "growth, culture and prosperity of our people" and "effective logistic support of our armed forces."

'Image' Key to Success

By JESSE BOGUE

UPI Financial Editor
NEW YORK (UPI)—Yes, dear stockholder, there is a corporate image.

If a company is embarked upon a wide and careful acquisition and diversification program, it is essential that the "image" be a sound one.

A company organization which acquires another merely to liquidate or slash the operations of a going concern quickly can get a reputation for "wheeling and dealing" in the business world, said Campbell W. Elliott, administrative vice president of Midland-Ross Corporation, Cleveland, O.

Image Counts

"Success in acquiring sound companies," said Elliott, "often is based on the image you have created and what other people say about you." Midland-Ross started out five years ago in the merger of two companies, Midland Steel Products Company and J. O. Ross Engineering Corporation. It now has 10 divisions, representing the consolidation of 18 companies; they produce metal goods, textiles, food, paper, rubber, plastics, glass, other goods.

Most recent acquisition was that of Wright Manufacturing Division, Phoenix, Ariz., which gave Midland-Ross a manufacturing and distributing center for heating, refrigeration and air conditioning equipment in what Elliott called the "heart of a very profitable market."

Late in 1961, it acquired what has become its industrial rayon division, with a plant at Painesville, O., and Elliott took this as a case in point.

The acquired company's principal product had been rayon cord for tires and the invasion of the field by nylon adversely affected its volume and profit.

Building Up

It disposed of some of its interests to Hercules Powder, closed a Covington, O., plant; closed another in Cleveland and consolidated its operations with a more modern and efficient plant in Painesville. In the process, it had acquired a substantial amount of cash and securities and still had a "going" operation.

"Several companies contacted the principal parties," said Elliott, "but they were more the 'wheeler and dealer' or liquidator type. The feeling was that Midland-Ross had shown that it would make a sincere effort—applying the general industrial know-how that it already had shown in other acquisitions—to continue the business."

"If the rayon business slumped, of course, we would take a tumble with it, and we have a duty to our stockholders. But we had the reputation of making an effort to keep employees to keep an organization and a business alive. Their decision was that ours was the kind of company which would carry on if possible.

"Several opportunities over the long pull, we think, have come to us because of this policy."

NOT SURPRISED

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI)—The mother of dancer Juliet Prowse announced she was "upset but not surprised" that her daughter and American singer Frank Sinatra had canceled their wedding plans. Mrs. Phyllis Polite said her daughter had told her by telephone that Sinatra wanted her to give up professional dancing and that the engagement was off.
